FEATURES

A probiotic or "good bacteria" is essential to overall health. With 70% of the body's immune system located in the intestines, it is very important to maintain proper function of this organ. Carelumina uses a proprietary capsule technology that places bacteria in a protective barrier that will not break down in the harsh stomach acid before it reaches the intestines. This allows most of these beneficial organisms to pass through to the intestines and carry out their 4 major functions, which are:

- Support a healthy immune response
- Aid in digestion
- Help with elimination of waste
- Aid in absorption of nutrients (especially B vitamins)
